

Same room, same seven machines, new flow

Not one machine moves. Everything drawn in colour is paint, signage or a bin — the plan is zoning, not building work.

This is a zoning plan, not a measured drawing.

Dimensions are scaled from the walkthrough footage and are estimates. Give me three numbers — room length, room width, and the alcove opening — and the bay counts and walkway clearance can be firmed up exactly. Machine positions follow what the video shows; nothing here requires moving one.
